

HAVING A FIELD DAY.

These "hamateur" enthusiasts were out for the yearly field day, practicing emergency communications in case of disaster. The June 1948 photo was shared by Ed Willie and the Milwaukee Radio Amateurs' Club.

TETHER TIME. "This is me playing tetherball in saddle shoes as a teen in Riverton, New Jersey, in the early '40s," writes Maylou Lockwood of Lake Placid, New York. "The slide was taken by my father, Herbert Kieckhefer. After going through a box of slides, I found this to be the most evocative of the era."

Remember Saying?
BATHTUB:
motorcycle sidecar